

Table 1
Presidents by Religious Affiliation

Religion	N	%	Presidents
Protestant Establishment	20	47
Episcopalian	11	26	George Washington James Madison James Monroe William Henry Harrison John Tyler Zachary Taylor Franklin Pierce Chester A. Arthur Franklin Delano Roosevelt Gerald Ford George H. W. Bush
Presbyterian	8	19	Andrew Jackson James Knox Polk James Buchanan Grover Cleveland ^a Benjamin Harrison Woodrow Wilson Dwight D. Eisenhower
Congregational	1	2	Calvin Coolidge
Other Colonial Elites	6	14
Unitarian	4	9	John Adams John Quincy Adams Millard Fillmore William Howard Taft
Quaker	2	5	Herbert Hoover Richard M. Nixon
Other Protestants	13	30
Baptist	4	9	Warren Harding Harry S. Truman Jimmy Carter William Jefferson Clinton
Methodist	4	9	Rutherford B. Hayes Ulysses S. Grant William McKinley George W. Bush
Disciples Of Christ	3	7	James A. Garfield Lyndon Baines Johnson Ronald Reagan
Dutch Reformed	2	5	Martin Van Buren Theodore Roosevelt
Others	4	9
Nones	3	7	Thomas Jefferson Abraham Lincoln Andrew Johnson
Catholic	1	2	John F. Kennedy
Total	43	100	Donald Trump Barack Obama Joe Biden

^a Cleveland was elected president on two separate occasions (1885-1889 and 1893-1897). Following the customary way of counting U.S. presidents, and because at least theoretically his religious affiliation could have been different each time, we count Cleveland twice.