Data Set of 1753 student survey respondents at four American universities, 2005-2006. Association of Religion Data Archives, Penn State University, State College, PA. <http://www.thearda.com>

Work in Progress – Currently under peer review and pending review:

Koch, Jerome R., Kevin D. Dougherty, and Patricia A. Maloney. "Profane and Sacred: Religion, Tattoos, and Religious Tattoos." Second Revised and Re-submitted: Journal for the Scientific Study of Religion.

Koch, Jerome R., and Patricia A. Maloney. "Tattoos Among the LGBTQIA Population." IRB approved. Data collection pending.

Major Research Support:

Principal Investigator: "Seeking the Moral Community: Religion, Deviance, and Well-Being Among American College Students." 2010-2013. This project was funded for $107,965 by the E.A. Franklin Charitable Trust. The work involved surveying 3610 American university students at 12 different schools in order to compare trends and tendencies regarding their religious beliefs and practices, deviant behavior, and their emotional well-being.

Co-PI: "Community Building and Job Creation." 2001-2004. This project was funded for $373,739 by Covenant Health Systems. It was administered through Goodwill Industries of Lubbock and the Texas Tech University Sociology department. I proposed, developed, and administered the Evaluation component of the project. This involved continuous monitoring and evaluating the efficacy of the program and its budget, compiling a data set for future research, and supervising a graduate student. I directly administered and disbursed $53,818.

Teaching

Teaching Honors and Awards:

College of Arts and Sciences Excellence in Teaching Award, 2025:

The College of Arts and Sciences honors one faculty member each year with the Excellence in Teaching Award. It is my highest honor to be able to accept this for 2025. I am ever grateful to my students, colleagues, and the College for this wonderful recognition.

Texas Tech University Teaching Academy, Class of 2020:

I am deeply grateful and profoundly honored to have been elected to membership in the Texas Tech University Teaching Academy. The Teaching Academy not only recognizes good teaching, but it also promotes ongoing learning, excellence, and growth. Academy members are also a resource to the entire teaching faculty and their students.

Professing Excellence Awards: 2004, 2005, 2016, 2023.

I am very fortunate and grateful to be a four-time recipient (eight-time nominee) of the “Professing Excellence” award. This comes from The Success Center, Texas Tech University, awarded solely through student nominations and selection: “For demonstrating commitment to student success.”

Apple Polishing Award – Texas Tech University Chapter, Mortar Board, 2023:

The Apple-Polishing Ceremony serves to recognize influential staff and faculty from Texas Tech University. Each Mortar Board member had the opportunity to nominate their most influential professor, advisor, or research mentor. I am so very pleased and honored that one of Texas Tech’s finest students nominated me to receive this honor.

Outstanding Professor – Phi Beta Kappa, 2017, 2024.

Our best students nominate their best professors for special recognition during their induction ceremony into Phi Beta Kappa. I’m deeply honored to have been selected.

Top Prof Award -- Alpha Epsilon Delta (Pre Health-Professional Honorary). 2002.

I’m pleased to have been singled out by our top pre-meds and others for this honor, especially since I’m a social scientist.
